

LADY M. D. WALLOPS HOBBY; THEN FALLS

MRS. DR. McDOUGALL, OF AURORA, BREAKS HIP AFTER ATTACK UPON 140 POUND SPOUSE.

Aurora, January 2.—Dr. Margaret McDougall, conspicuous in the Pythian Sisters of Illinois, was found unconscious and bleeding on the Burlington railway tracks in Aurora on New Year's day. In the McDougall apartment, which abuts on the railway, was found her husband, dazed and wounded.

From bits of information obtained from Dr. McDougall in a moment of consciousness and from McDougall after he had been treated it developed there had been a domestic misunderstanding that extended to fist violence.

Swatted With Mesh Bag.

Dr. McDougall explained she had swatted her husband with a heavy metal mesh bag. Then, she said, she fell off the rear porch to the tracks, where she sustained a broken hip and internal injuries. The doctor weighs 200 pounds, whereas her husband tips the beam around 140 pounds.

McDougall at first was unable to make much of an explanation except to say he did not force his wife to jump off the rear porch nor did he pursue her. Finally he said his wife had struck him and then told him to go to her operating room for salve that she might dress his wound.

Found Door Barricaded.

He said when he tried to return he found the door barricaded and he was so befuddled by the blow she gave him he didn't know what was happening until he was found.

Dr. McDougall diagnosed her own case in the hospital, and after much questioning said it was not McDougall's fault.

CHRISTMAS CAKES.

Several Recipes Especially Suited to the Holiday Spirit.

Wash and dry one pound of almond meats and put through a meat chopper with the brown skins. Stir one pound of sifted sugar and one cup of finely cut peel of candied lemon and add the beaten whites of six eggs, flavor with cinnamon and set a part of this mixture aside. Roll the remainder out to a wafer-like thickness, first adding the almonds. Cut into stars and brush with some of the mixture you have put aside and bake in a slow oven. These cakes improve in flavor with keeping.

Lebkuchen.

Over 600 years old, these little honey cakes have lost none of their popularity. Put two ounces each of orange peel and citron through the food chopper, mix a pound of almonds shredded fine; mix these together with two cups of honey, two tablespoons of cinnamon, one tablespoonful of cloves, one teaspoonful of nutmeg, one teaspoonful of baking soda, wineglass of brandy, grated peel of one lemon, two ounces of brown sugar and enough flour to make a stiff dough; knead well, let stand overnight. In the morning roll out, cut in desired shapes, bake on well greased and floured pans in a moderate oven twenty minutes, ice with sirup and water cooked to a fine thread. These cakes will keep all winter and improve with age.

Pfeffernusse.

These cakes are truly delicious. To a half pound of sifted flour add half a pound of powdered sugar, two eggs, two ounces of citron, grated rind of one lemon, half a teaspoonful each of nutmeg and cloves, one tablespoonful of cinnamon, one teaspoonful of baking powder. Beat the eggs in a bowl, adding the spices, flour, baking powder and sugar; knead well, form in small round cakes the size of a half dollar, bake on well greased tin in a slow oven, brush with a sirup made of sugar and water cooked to a thread; then roll in pulverized sugar.

English Cakes.

One cupful of sugar, one-half cupful of butter, one and one-half cupfuls of molasses, three cupfuls of flour. Melt the butter and the other ingredients, mix well together and drop by small spoonfuls far apart on a greased flat baking tin. Bake in a rather slow oven, remove from the tin with a broad bladed knife and place over the edge of a bowl to curl and cool.

Artistic Color Schemes.

Brown tulle or chiffon is often used in artistic color schemes, veiling other colors smokily, as in the case of an odd and beautiful deep greenish blue over which brown chiffon was thrown, with a little fur and metal embroidery for trimming; but these effects call for an artist's color sense, and the one tone frocks of the "putty" and "beige" and "taupe" class are a safer proposition. In satin of considerable luster they have more life than in materials of dull surface and are often becoming where other material in the same color scheme would be trying.

What "Marinate" Means.

Marinate merely means to cover with a dressing and stand thus two or more hours.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

This preparation is especially valuable for colds, and its remarkable properties have won for it a wide reputation. It acts on nature's plan, loosens a cold, relieves the lungs, opens the secretions and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. Obtainable everywhere.

WHEN JAMES TOOK A HAND

His Story of How Wonderful Machine Worked First Caused Astonishment and Then Disgust.

While I was running a bolt cutter at the Rock Island shops in Chicago, writes a contributor to Railway and Locomotive Engineering, I boarded at a house which was frequented by locomotive engineers and firemen. These men talked a great deal about their tremendous feats in getting over certain hills without the help of a second locomotive.

My opposite neighbor at a table, a young fellow who ran a lathe in the shop, grew tired of this monotonous bragging; he thought he was entitled to do a little talking himself. One evening he called out to me:

"Well, I went over and saw that new machine today, and it's astonishing the fine work it does."

"How does it work?" I inquired.

"Well," said James, "by means of a pedal attachment, a fulcrum lever converts a vertical reciprocating motion into a circular movement. The principal part of the machine is a huge disk that revolves in a vertical plane. Power is applied through the axis of the disk, and when the speed of the driving arbor is moderate, the periphery of the apparatus is traveling at a high velocity. Work is done on this periphery. Pieces of the hardest steel are by mere impact reduced to any shape the skillful operator desires."

"What in the name of sense is that machine, anyway?" demanded Tom Briggs.

"Oh, it's a new grindstone," replied James, and a silence that could be cut with a knife fell upon the crowd.

HOW TO LEARN TO WRITE

Road to Success in Literature is a Long One, and the Path Thickly Beset With Sorrows.

Putting words together is not writing; making fine sentences is not writing; elaborating striking plots is not writing. Of all the arts, literature is the most exacting mistress. To write you must have lived, you must have suffered and know joy, you must be able to analyze people, to understand their motives, to love them.

Granted that you have learned something of the motives, the passions, the sorrows that rack us humans, then you must also have your medium in control. Words are like little creatures that march and fight and sing. They are like extra hands and brains. All the passions wait on them. Until you get this sense of the choiceness, the fragility, the power of words, you are not ready to transcribe your thoughts.

You must support yourself, then study when you can. Write all the time, get facility with words, then tear up your manuscript. Don't try to sell things. Begin to watch people, get abreast of events. Read the papers and the magazines in the library. Read Shakespeare, Fielding, Dickens, Thackeray, Bunyan, Meredith, Barrie and Galsworthy. You might even try Shaw.—American Magazine.

Leg Is 2,000 Years Old.

There is preserved in the Royal College of Surgeons, London, what is probably the very earliest specimen extant of an artificial leg. This remarkable limb is considered over two thousand years old.

Yet for beauty of shape and carefulness of construction it might vie with many of those turned out today. It is made of pieces of thin bronze, fastened by bronze rivets to a hollow wooden core, and is modeled so as to accurately represent the form of a real leg.

The outside is believed to have been enameled flesh color, and the upper part of the artificial leg was connected with the living stump by means of a circle of sheet bronze edged with small rivets, probably used to fasten a leather lining.

Port of Damariscotta.

One of the most-syllabed names of towns along the Maine coast is Damariscotta. Tested by standards of sight or sound, the name is unique. The gazetteer records nothing like it in other states or in other lands. When the name was coined the die was thrown away. Nor is its name the only unique feature of the town. It is better known in Haiti than Cambridge, Mass., or Mount Washington, in New Hampshire. Why? Because, year after year there arrive from the Damariscotta waters about 6,000 barrels of pickled alewives, which the Haitians consume. The case is interesting for the light it sheds on the specialized industry and market problem of the small town.—Christian Science Monthly.

Height of Trees.

When one is out for a walk, it is a very common thing to wish to know the height of a particular tree which happens to catch the eye. When the sun is shining it is possible accurately to measure the height of the tree from the shadow it casts on the ground. In order to do so, a stick must be set upright in the ground, so that its shadow falls beside the shadow of the tree. Then, as the length of the stick's shadow to the stick's height, so is the length of the tree's shadow to the tree's height. For example, suppose a 2½-foot stick shows a shadow 3 feet long, and the tree's shadow is 18 feet long. Therefore the tree is six times as high as the stick, which shows that the height of the tree will be 15 feet.

PUBLICATIONS HIT IN CAMPAIGN BILL

LEGISLATION BEFORE CONGRESS AIMED TO MAKE POLITICAL OFFICE SEEKING A BIT LESS STRENUOUS.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 2.—Campaign contributions to a national political committee would be limited to 1½ cents per capita of the total population of the United States in the revised corrupt practices bill completed today by a senate elections sub-committee to be placed before the senate Wednesday.

Senators Reed, Walsh and Kenyon drafted the bill in collaboration with Senator Owen, author of the original measure debated in the senate before the holidays. Senator Owen said tonight leaders of both parties had agreed to expedite the passage of a bill along the lines proposed.

The per capita basis would limit total contributions to any national committee in a presidential campaign to approximately $1,500,000; no individual would be permitted to contribute more than $5,000, and contributions by corporations would be prohibited.

Eleventh Hour Gifts Barred.

Another important provision would prohibit contributions to a national committee within ten days of a general election, and require a complete report of contributions and disbursements to be filed with the clerk of the house of representatives ten days before the election. Election betting and advertising of betting odds would be made a felony. The bill also provides that any person or corporation withdrawing or threatening to withdraw patronage, advertising or otherwise, from any publication for the purpose of influencing its attitude shall be guilty of a felony.

Newspapers or periodicals charging for political advertising in excess of normal commercial advertising rates or refusing nonbusiness political advertisements offered at such rates when it opens its columns to other political advertising would be denied the use of the mails for thirty days.

Restrictions on Publications.

Further, the measure provides that no publication shall publish gratuitously any political matter during a campaign except the written by its own employees, unless the matter is signed by the real name of the author, and that no political advertising matter intended to influence an election shall be published unless marked as "paid advertising matter," with the name of the candidate or committee presenting it attached.

Financial contributions to state and county political committees also would be limited on a per capita population basis. State committees would be restricted to 5 cents per capita up to the first 500,000 inhabitants, 3 cents up to the second 500,000, and 2 cents per capita over the first million. County committees would be limited to 3 cents per capita for the first 25,000, 2 cents per capita in excess of 25,000 to 100,000, and 1 cent above 100,000.

Jump from Bed in Morning and Drink Hot Water

Tells why everyone should drink hot water each morning before breakfast.

Why is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried; some days headachy, dull and unstrung; some days really incapacitated by illness.

If we all would practice inside-bathing, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of thousands of half-sick, anemic-looking souls with puffy, muddy complexions we should see crowds of happy, healthy, rosy-cheeked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste which it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out, else it ferments and forms poisonous poisons which are absorbed into the blood.

Just as necessary as it is to clean the ashes from the furnace each day, before the fire will burn bright and hot, so we must each morning clear the inside organs of the previous day's accumulation of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of washing out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Millions of people who had their turn at constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, nervous days and sleepless nights have become real cranks about the morning inside-bath. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate to anyone, its cleansing, sweetening and freshening effect upon the system.
